CLOSING ARGUMENTS.

Crowds of Rooters Gather in the Rain to Hear Speeches.

Re Reiter's Democratic Statements on Financial Questions.

Blaine Gives Connecticut People Plain Tariff Talk.

Effect of their Decision Next Tuesday on the Presidency.

Sherman in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. November 2.—Senator Sherman, of Ohio, John Sherman, arrived in this city at 10 o'clock this morning. A special train was in waiting to convey him to Worcester, where he will speak this evening.

Blaine in Connecticut.

NEW HAVEN, November 2.—Blaine arrived in this city this morning and spoke briefly to an immense crowd. He referred to the present political campaign, saying the next election would be the most important one ever held in this country. He referred to the deposit of national banks by Secretary Fairchild, and touched slightly upon the speech of the president. After the speech he left for Boston.

At Derby Mr. Blaine and party were escorted to the residence of Thomas Bradley, where lunch was served. The party was then driven to the trotting park, where 10,000 people gathered and gave Blaine an enthusiastic reception.

Blaine spoke substantially as follows:

FELLOW CITIZENS: If you allow the protection to be broken down and destroyed, where can you think it will be put back again? Do you think you can vote for free trade for two and have some one else maintain the protection principle for you. If you will put Gen. Harrison in the presidential chair I will guarantee that the protective tariff will not be disturbed.

They are pressing us in every way in manufactures and under. While in Indiana I had an interview with Postmaster-General Dickinson, in which he described New England as foolishly hanging on to the holy politic, absorbing its wealth and giving back nothing. He described us as an unpatriotic people who had not done as much to support the ticket in the Missouri and Kentucky. I had to say something about him but he replied describing the laboring man of New England as in the last stages of starvation. He said that in Fall River there were a thousand men with families and they could not earn more than forty or fifty cents a day for the whole family, that occasionally the family had a little fish to eat, but they did not have one pound of beef a year, that they had mostly on bread and some times were obliged to go to bed without anything to eat.

Gentlemen I did not mean this to ridicule Mr. Dickinson, but it is of that stuff, and of stuff like it, that is all through the west and southwest. The arguments against the tariff are mere phrases. They represent New England as having two classes. One class rioting in wealth, and the other class feeding on starvation. This is the foul speaking of the results of protection and describing New England in relation and describing the most industrious and one of the most deserving sections of the union.

The question pressed upon you to-day is: Are you willing to trust a president of the United States who sent a free trade message to congress are you willing to trust him with the tariff? The whole question my friends, is a question of wages and being a question of wages the voters of the men who earn wages can decide this election. Western democrats say New England has palaces and every hilltop. I have lived in New England many years and have seen but few of them. The vast number of the people are comfortably well off. It is in the hands and always has been in their hands to make and unmake the laws of the country.

DON'T GIVE UP. Do not republicans predict all sorts of disaster if the democrats get in and don't you see we have a good deal to say as before. As if we had anything to do with that. Why we are having good times because the democrats have been guarded by the republican senate. The president and members of the house from the south have stood for free trade, and the struggle is now whether to enforce the senate with a republican president or give way and let the democrats have full swing. Will you refuse the senate for protection or the house for free trade? If Connecticut at all may be her electoral vote to Harrison and Morton you may rest secure in the belief that the business of the country will go on as it has for a quarter of a century, in peace and prosperity, but if Connecticut allows her vote to favor free trade then you will have abundant reason to fear competition with the illpaid labor of Europe to calculate just how much you have made out of it.

A Disastrous Explosion.

READING, Pa., November 2.—An accident occurred to the killing of five persons, injuring many others took place this afternoon on the farm of Jonas Spayd. Two boilers were a steam threshing machine in operation. The boilers exploded and killed Irvin Dietz, Peter Wilson, Robert Joseph R. Dietz, Peter Wilson, Robert Joseph R. Held by the Enemy.

The Art Dean will be open but a few days more.

To-night is the regular meeting of the board of trade.

The board of trade will have a number of important matters to discuss to-night.

Mr. C. C. Weigand, manager of the Los Angeles Refinery, clerk of the Josephine Mr. Scott, is in the city on the question

A meeting will be held at the office of Crouch & Bro., this evening, in relation to the Cripple Creek Mining company.

Mr. Richard Clough, of the firm of Clough & Bro., left for Pittsburgh last night to be present at the funeral of his father.

The officers elected at the last meeting of the Colorado Springs Art association will be installed at the next meeting.

Mr. Frank Cooper has purchased the Colorado Springs Cycle Club's property on Cascade avenue, and will open a riding school.

A regular meeting of Pueblo Lodge No. 24, Ancient Order United Workmen will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Nomination of officers for ensuing term. All members are especially requested to attend.

A number of local sporting men went to the extreme part of the state yesterday where a prize fight was to take place between Jack Davis and some unknown. The prize of the fight was $250 aside, but it was supposed to be more. You'll

The Green Mountain Falls road is rapidly nearing completion, and the people there say they will open it. The company will have a stage ready to convey guests from Cripple to-day. The rates of fare are to be [illegible] and the scenery is interesting.

St. L. P. Moore, of Hosted, Ky., formerly of this city, was married last week to Miss Rebecca Jane Hogg, on the 18th, Jewett Hogg on the 17th, on the 27th, Wesley Jewett, aged 1[illegible]. Pre. Shelton's direction of the wife's father.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church under the leadership of the Rev. W. H. Brooks, in the Chapel on the corner of Cascade avenue and Kiowa street, are preparing to give a grand entertainment in the near future. Although it was understood at the play would take place this afternoon, it was decided by the ladies that the members of the company were unknown to Rev. Brooks and the presentation of the play would cause a flood of uncertainty among the people. The event was an interesting one, and we do not doubt but that the curtain rose the keynote was sounded. Miss Dupree as Susan, captivating the audience by her interesting sweetness, was [illegible] and simplicity. The [illegible] was this early touched was [illegible] to the end and the natural [illegible] Conspicuous conformity of [illegible] was noticeable. The piece was well given. FLORISSANT ITEMS

The prospect of a new railroad at Florissant seems probable in the near future. The Union Pacific engineering corps has located a line two miles west of the city, at the mouth of Turkey Creek canon, and the line appears to be an extension into the Cripple Creek coal fields. The engineers are now working eastward. They are expected to reach the south end of town from the canon down Four Mile or Old Creek. They make direct address to from Denver to Cripple City and doubtless a better grade than the present one of the D & R G will not have been used in the survey.

At Mr Brooks the preacher of this district preached at Florissant on Monday night. All were at the park to keep a great many of the young people away, still there was a fair turn out and those that were present enjoyed a treat, as the elder is an able and earnest talker.

Judge Fields and Mr Gratton are booked for a political talk at the hall on to night. They are to discuss the issue from a republican standpoint.

There has up to date been 193 voters registered in this precinct, of the 5 of the voters in the precinct have not lived here long enough to be entitled to vote. If they had all cared their vote (hence we would) have twelve hundred votes.

Mr. E. J. Putnam has arrived and is completing his suburban residence and putting it in shape for occupancy. He expects his family in a few days or as soon as he can get ready for them. Mr Putnam comes from Leadville and he to be a permanent resident here. He was one of the citizens' committee of one hundred who have been trying to purify the moral atmosphere of Leadville.

D J White has broken ground for an eight room cottage at the foot of the bluff north of the depot.

Mr Du Bois is putting lumber on the ground for his new residence and meat market.

MOUNTAINEER.

In Memoriam

The following minute was adopted by the faculty of Colorado college at their regular weekly meeting held November 1, 1888.

"The faculty of Colorado college have been deeply pained to hear of the death of the Rev. Willis Lord, who was connected with this college during the years 1882-3 as instructor in political science and moral philosophy and was for a time the acting president.

"We remember with the greatest pleasure our daily intercourse with him during his connection with the college, his unvarying urbanity and kindliness of manner, his breadth of learning, his earnestness and skill in developing the mature fruit of a long and varied experience—the series of instructive and able discourses upon religious themes which he gave on Sabbath afternoons in the college chapel; and above all we recognize in him a noble type of Christian manhood wherever he might be, giving himself with unstinted devotion up to the very end of his earnest four score years to doing every good work which came in his way.

Communicated by vote of the faculty.

MANITOU SPRINGS.

Local and Personal Items from the Western Saratoga.

Mr. and Mrs John Fillmore of Chicago are guests of the Ruxton.

Mr Fred O White of Chicago is registered at the Ruxton.

Mr C G Burkhardt, of the A T & S. F., registered at the Cliff yesterday.

Professor Paul Beran, of the Cambridge university, England, is registered at the Cliff.

Mr. H. H Grafton was one of the speakers at an enthusiastic republican meeting at Florissant last night.

The Manitou republicans will participate in the rally at Colorado City to night. A special train will be run.

Mr and Mrs F H. Kent and Mr and Mrs J. H Shattuck, of Chicago, were among yesterday's arrivals at the Cliff.

Mr C A Brooks, of Gunnison who several years ago was well known in Manitou as a newspaper correspondent, is among the recent arrivals at the Sunny Side.

Mr W S. Hatch, who was in charge of the Sunny Side during the proprietor's absence, will soon go to Denver. He has been offered a position in a bank there.

There are 120 pupils in attendance at the Manitou schools. The departments are divided between the teachers as follows: Mr C. H Frowine principal and instructor in high school course; Miss Hope Smith assistant, Miss Josie Parker, intermediate, Miss Lou Hanna, primary. This is the first year of the high school course.

William Gillette's "Held by the Enemy" was produced at the opera house by the Madison Square company last night before a large and fashionable audience. The play is an attractive one and the cast with a few exceptions a strong one. While much care has evidently been taken by the management to get together a good company, it has not been at the expense of the scenery and stage fittings as is so often the case. Miss Leon is a sweet and lovable Rachel. Miss French quite won her audience by her simplicity and natural ness and was quite frequently applauded. Mr Preston as the Special for Ladies "in the typical impressible newspaper man. Mr Wilson as Colonel Prescott has much merit in it. The play will be presented to night again and the indications are that there will be another large audience present.

To add to the list of curious lots which are being made on the result of the election, a society belle in Louisville is said to have bet her hand in marriage on Cleveland's election. As the New York Tribune suggests this is certainly a neat and sure way of giving a man the mitten.

Mr Cooper's record is clean and his personal character unchallenged. His sterling qualities and superior abilities place him on the front rank as a representative of the best element of our citizenship. He is sound on all the great issues involved in this campaign, and his plain and sensible utterances on all these issues prove. The election of Mr Cooper to the office of governor will insure to Colorado an honest and able administration for the next two years.

Mr Mills obtained his start in public life by his fearless advocacy of the cause of prohibition. He published a temperance paper and took an active part in the campaign of the prohibition party. There has certainly a great change come over Mr. Mills in this respect. Two years ago when the question of local option came up in his county he bitterly opposed it, and stumped the county in favor of the personal liberty doctrine. When a constitutional amendment was proposed a year ago Mr. Mills was seen found leading the opposition.

The Denver News charged that the republican state central committee was getting up tickets printed at the office of the Denver News, our Union. The charge has been completely answered by the Times. Chairman Londoner with his customary thoughtfulness, had simply issued a circular letter which was sent to the chairman of each county committee, giving the electoral and state ticket and suggesting that these tickets be printed by the local newspapers. Mr Londoner had nothing to do with the printing of any tickets except those of Arapahoe, for this reason Wolfe Londoner knows enough about the newspaper business to always do the white thing about printing.

Indications point to a republican majority in the Fifty first congress. The democrats came into power on a tidal wave in 1882 with an overwhelming majority. That majority has been steadily reduced until it is only fifteen, and it is probable that it will be entirely wiped out on Tuesday. It is also certain that the republicans will make a gain of at least two in Pennsylvania. W. L. Scott will stand alone on the democratic side, which Mr Scott controlled. To date it is probable that [illegible] go back to [illegible] Lynch, who represents the Luzerne district, was elected two years [illegible] and with a majority of [illegible] which Mr Scott controlled. To date it is probable that [illegible] go back to [illegible] Lynch, who represents the Luzerne district, was elected two years [illegible] and with a majority of [illegible] his endorsement by the labor party. The latter has this year endorsed a republican, General Osborne, who is [illegible] changes, with three in New York, one in West Virginia, two in Maryland and two in Illinois, all of which are probable, will give the republicans a working majority.

Public School Library

The Colorado public library has been [illegible] in Colorado Springs and has taken [illegible] a method of [illegible] by [illegible] that the city should be without such an institution. The pupils of the public school have been raising money all the year, to aid in their collection of books and now the trustees have taken the matter in hand. At a late meeting of the teachers association a committee was appointed to formulate a plan which would interest a number of persons in the matter. It is hoped a thousand dollars can be raised and that the result will finally be a really good library. The report of the committee was as follows:

To the Members of the City Teachers' Association:

Your committee appointed to consider and report upon the library question brought before you at the last regular meeting of the teachers beg leave to recommend as follows:

1st. That we, the teachers of the public schools of Colorado Springs, unite with the pupils in an effort to increase the number of volumes in the public school library.

2d. That to this end the teachers instruct the pupils in the art of writing letters and addressing envelopes having in view the subject matter of the contents of the postal card hereafter referred to and that each teacher suggest to the children the advisability of sending these letters to such distant friends as are likely to contribute to the library fund.

3rd. That 100 postal cards be procured and printed with the following subject matter.

My Dear [illegible]

The pupils and teachers of the public schools of Colorado Springs have undertaken to raise $1000 for the purchase of books for their library to which the citizens may also have access. We confidently appeal to our friends throughout the United States for help. Will you not kindly send me 10 cents or more if you can for this worthy purpose? The money will be handled to my teacher immediately and credited to me. I am anxious to collect names as fast as possible. Please do not throw this aside as of no importance, but consider the matter and write me very soon.

Your friend,

School [illegible] No. [illegible] Street

4th. That the City Teachers' association elect five of its members to select books for the library and purchase the same.

5th. That each teacher be requested to hand to the committee a list of books suitable for the library.

6th. That the children be requested to hand the funds to their teachers without delay.

7th. That the teachers elect a custodian for the funds.

8th. That the board of education be requested to contribute from school funds the sum of $200 to be devoted to this fund.

Mysterious Death Found.

DENVER, November 2.—The body of Charles McKane for whose murder Geo Wetherell was arrested in this city Wednesday night was found to day buried in the sand on Beaver creek, six teen miles east of Canon City. The body presents a sickening appearance the head being splintered with an axe and the body horribly mutilated.

In giving an account of the affair the Times to night says: Wetherell, charged with the murder of McKane, had been working since he had been discharged from prison at the Silver Bell mine in the Cripple mining district. Wetherell induced McKane to leave Pueblo and come to Canon City. On the 27th of last month Mrs McKane received a letter purporting to be from her husband which was mailed in Canon City. The letter was as follows:

My Dear Wife—I have just had an opportunity to make some money by hauling my horses and wagons for a race near Grand Junction. It is only 24 miles from that place and a fine piece of property which the man who owns it can take care of. He will give me [illegible] and I think the exchange is a good one. So I will start at once for the place and I want you to come there on the 8th of November. I will write you when I get there so that you will know how to come. Good bye. Don't write me, as I don't know what my post office address will be.

[illegible]

Mrs McKane saw at once that the letter was not in her husband's hand writing and becoming alarmed went to Sheriff McGrath of Pueblo and asked advice, telling him she felt that her husband was being [illegible] companion whom Mr McCarthy at once recognized as Wetherell. A warrant was then issued for Wetherell's arrest.

Another Charge Revived.
